Guided Stargazing – A new way to explore the night

Etta Dannemann,
Founder VISIT DARK SKIES

Guided Stargazing is a new way to experience the night sky. With my company VISIT DARK SKIES, I inspire people to spend an hour lying down looking at the stars. The goal is to create an extraordinary experience and a lifetime of memories. A new appreciation for the natural night emerges as if by accident. In this talk, I will share how a research project on light pollution turned into a business, and why a broken-down old school bus was a life-changing experience.
